HIGH QUALITY PRODUCTIONS

Access to state-of-the-art resources from throughout the country means that we can deliver to the quality and in the format needed to create the best impression for any audience. You recognise that customers, staff, the public need to be informed about your business and your products with the most effective technique - video media. Our service can bring professionally trained and qualified staff to your marketing, sales and communications needs. With TV broadcast quality facilities and film industry skills to enhance your image and your profile you are certain to leave a good lasting impression on everyone.

NO MORE BAD PRODUCTIONS

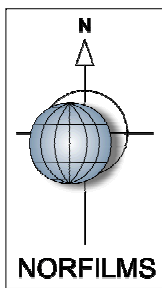

Make a great impression on your viewers, customers, staff, everyone.

If you have seen the low quality of some videos you know how bad they can be. A company that will spend thousands of pounds on high quality brochures, web sites, exhibitions, will leave their video production to a local film-maker more used to community productions than high quality film and TV communications.

The result can be embarrassing at the least and damaging to your public image at the most - you become a laughing stock in your community, to your staff, to your customers.

We can make it better for you and we can make it pay for you.

OUR UNIQUE SERVICES

The unique benefit of our service is that we are both an ambitious film and TV company and a local film-maker. We can bring the creative talent and skill of industry-level staff to your needs. This can be anything from a simple staff training film to a large event involving multiple cameras and complex recording of everyone involved.

Our interest in the film industry and the production of commercial feature films allows us make a special and unique offer - part of each fee we receive can be treated as a film investment with the opportunity for you to earn the money back with a 100% profit.

HOW IT WORKS

1. Every commission from you is treated as a professional project.
2. Each project has an element which we can treat as if it was a film investment - covering our overhead and helping our production ambitions.
3. This element can be from 10% upto 50% of the commission.
4. This element qualifies for the rebate scheme.
5. As soon as we go into production on our next major feature film your contribution to our effort is rewarded with a predetermined rebate.
6. This rebate could be upto 100% of the value of the commission.
7. You get your money back - a FREE FILM for your business!

WHY IT WORKS

When you commission our services and our unique rebate scheme you are becoming an investor in the commercial film production ambitions on the other side of our studio. Your commission is a way to sponsor our future productions. This is a form of development investment which qualifies you for a rewarding share of the future production. As a development investor you will qualify for this as soon as we go into production - no waiting for release of the film.

This is an accountancy procedure and unique financial management of our business which helps both of us: you receive a quality production and we raise the money for our film productions.
